

Capstone Tutoring

Capstone Tutoring is a Raleigh-Based SAT prep course designed to cater to the needs of each student. Danielle and Gracie started up this revolutionary tutoring course in 2012 and have been targeting the problematic areas of their students ever since. Where other national SAT prep courses fail to individualize, Capstone Tutoring believes in small-group environments so that each student can have his or her question answered. We listen to our students and value their feedback!

We believe that every student has the right to attend the college of their choice, regardless of their abilities and backgrounds. Our mission is to prepare our high school students in the wake of their undergraduate careers.

About our Program

Capstone tutoring meets twice a week for two months for a total of 16 sessions. That's over 30 hours of specialized, intimate tutoring with experienced tutors! Due to the nature of our program, we like to keep our groups small, with no more than 10-12 students in any session at a time. During the sessions, we divide the students into even smaller groups based on their individual level of academic proficiency. This way, our tutors can relate to their students on a personal level and identify their needs.

Meet our Tutors:

Danielle Hennis, an Appalachian State graduate, has been tutoring for over 7 years. Her primary focus has always been math, but has also tutored psychology, graphic design programs, Spanish, and SAT prep.

Gracie Nowell graduated from NC State, and has been tutoring for over 4 years. Her primary focus has been on Spanish and English. Together Danielle and Gracie make an outstanding SAT prep team, who have the experience and fortitude to help any student achieve their dreams.
